Diversity

多樣化

As part of its Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) for 2030, the United Nations underscores the crucial role of Diversity in advancing global development. Through the power of design, students can incorporate multicultural perspectives, stimulate innovation, and facilitate cross-boundary collaboration and inclusion, thereby fostering new opportunities for society progress. Diversity is not merely a concept, but a practice—respecting each individual's uniqueness, reflecting the richness of the world, and cultivating an inclusive society built on mutual support.
